

Clean Energy Event, A Joint Meeting with NAEM and CMBEN

Thursday, Sept. 10, 2013

Chris Famolare Biography

Chris Famolare has been with EMD Millipore for four years holding various roles as Energy Engineer, Facilities Project Manager, and most recently Operations Programs Manager for Corporate Responsibility. Chris leads EMD Millipore's global energy management network on the identification and justification of high value energy reduction initiatives in the life science industry. Chris holds a degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of New Hampshire, is a Massachusetts registered EIT, and is a Certified Energy Manager through the Association of Energy Engineers.